TAFT AND DIAZ HAVE MEETING

Presidents Of United States And Of Mexico,
Shake Hands In Formal Way.

TAFT CROSSES MEXICAN FRONTIER

Will Banquet In Juarez Tonight...El Paso With Soldiers And Crowds Who Welcome Two Dignitaries.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—The city of El Paso and the Mexican city of Juarez, across the Rio Grande, shared in the honor today of being the scene of the most picturesque international event in the history of the two North American republics. Porfirio Diaz, President and ruler of Mexico for nearly thirty years, came to El Paso to meet President Taft and the latter crossed over to Juarez to return the visit of the chief executive of Mexico. The meeting of the two rulers was marked by great cordiality. President Diaz shook President Taft's hand warmly and the two men spoke to one another with the animation of old friends delighted to see one another.
It is no exaggeration to say no official head of a friendly power would have received a more cordial greeting in the United States than was accorded most spontaneously to President Diaz. And the same can be said with equal truth in regard to the welcome given to the President of the United States when he stepped on Mexican soil.
Both in the matter of decorations and the welcome from the great crowd which thronged the vicinity of the Chamber of Commerce building, where the meeting of the two rulers took place, the City of El Paso did things handsomely. A general holiday and business everywhere was suspended. Lavish decorations brightened the streets through which the presidential processions passed. The route of the parade was through San Francisco street to St. Louis, east on St. Louis to Campbell street, south on Campbell to San Antonio, and thence through El Paso street to Seventh street. All of these thoroughfares were crowded with spectators, whose cheers were more than sufficient in volume and continuity to impress upon both the Presidential visitors that they were in a city which wished them well.

The carefully arranged program was carried out without any untoward incident. From the time that President Taft arrived in the city from the West shortly before 10 o'clock this morning until his return from Juarez this afternoon to review the parade and hold a reception in honor of the members of the Ohio Society and others, awaiting meanwhile the hour fixed for his return to Juarez for tonight's banquet, everything moved with a clockwork regularity that testified to the care and thoroughness bestowed upon the preparations by the Government officials, the military officers and the local reception committees.

From an early hour in the morning the streets of El Paso had been filled with soldiers in uniform. Regiments of infantry, artillery and cavalry had been brought from Fort Bliss and Sam Houston to form the brilliant military escort which was one of the most conspicuous features of the international demonstration. All of the American troops were under command of Brig. Gen. Albert L. Myer, of the Mexican side were the Presidential bodyguard, consisting of sixty men in gorgeous uniforms of green and gold, several regiments of infantry and a regiment of the famous Zapadores. Military bands were everywhere and the strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the Mex-

PITTSBURG TOOK THE LEAD EARLY

HAD FOUR RUNS TALLIED BY END OF THE FIFTH INNING.

TWO PLAYERS ARE INJURED

Donovan Opened the Game for Tigers but Was Replaced by Mullin Later.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—An immense crowd today saw the deciding game of the world's championship baseball series. The weather was rather chilly, but the crowd lost sight of that fact in their enthusiasm.
The umpires were O'Loughlin, Evans, Johnston, and Klein.
The teams lined up the same as on Thursday except Adams was in the box for the Pirates.

"Wild Bill" Donovan went into the box for the Tigers, the weather being to his liking, and the game began with an accident which put out third baseman Byrne of Pittsburgh and caused a shift of that team.
First inning.
Byrne led off and was running for third when he and Moriarty of the Tigers collided. Both men were out and doctors were called, but while Moriarty was able to get up and continue playing, Lynch was taken from the field unconscious. Lynch was brought in from center to take Byrne's place at third and Hyatt went to center. Pittsburgh made no runs and Detroit drew a blank.
Score: Pittsburgh 0; Detroit 0.
Second inning.
Pittsburgh opened up the second time at bat and by a series of well placed hits and hard base-running bring two men across the home plate. While Detroit played desperately it failed to land a run and Pittsburgh took the lead.
Score: Pittsburgh 2; Detroit 0.
Third inning.
In the third inning Pittsburgh failed to draw better than a goose egg and Detroit played in the same luck, leaving the advantage with the Pirates.
Score: Pittsburgh 2; Detroit 0.
Fourth inning.
O'Leary took Moriarty's place at third for Detroit and Mullin relieved Donovan in the box. Pittsburgh however scored two runs and Detroit made nothing.
Score: Pittsburgh 4; Detroit 0.
Fifth inning.
In the fifth inning hard playing characterized the game and neither side was able to score.
Score: Pittsburgh 4; Detroit 0.
Sixth inning.
Pittsburgh made three scores while Detroit failed to score.
Score: Pittsburgh 7; Detroit 0.

PADEREWSKI WILL PAY EXPENSES OF A YOUNG MUSICIAN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
La Crosse, October 16.—As a result of a visit of Paderewski, Donald Johnson of Centerville who is visiting friends here, today received a letter from the famous pianist, instructing him to proceed to New York City where he is to take a course in music of Danneberg of that city for a period of two years, and that all of his expenses will be borne by Paderewski. Johnson is 20 years of age. When Paderewski was here last winter, Johnson, with one hand amputated at the wrist, played for him and made a very great impression upon the famous pianist.

TEXAS STATE FAIR OPENS IN CITY OF DALLAS TODAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Dallas, Texas, Oct. 16.—The twenty-fourth annual state fair was opened today under brilliant auspices. The fair this year is more elaborate than ever, and the live stock show, the swing show, and the show of dogs, poultry and pet stock are the most complete ever seen here. The racing program was inaugurated today and will continue until the close of the fair on the last day of October.

PRETTY SOCIETY WEDDING CELEBRATED IN NEW JERSEY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 16.—St. John's church was the scene of a brilliant wedding this afternoon, when Miss Esther Caldwell Townsend, daughter of the late Franklin Townsend of Philadelphia, became the bride of Capt. Frank E. Evans, United States Marine Corps, retired. The bride is a niece of the Hon. Lawrence Townsend, formerly United States Minister to Portugal and Belgium. Capt. Evans is a son of the late Dr. Frederick Evans of New York and Franklin P. Evans, senator from New Jersey.

SEATTLE FAIR IS TO CLOSE TONIGHT

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 16.—The closing of the turnstiles tonight will mark the end of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. After tomorrow the work of removing the exhibits and wrecking the temporary buildings will be begun within a few months all that will remain of the big fair will be a memory of its success. A number of the larger buildings of permanent character will be left standing for the use of the University of Washington.
The exposition has been a remarkable success from every point of view. It has attracted investors in almost every line of endeavor, and it has made known to the entire world some of the advantages which the Pacific Northwest has to offer to home-seekers. It is probable that the today's attendance the fair will have attracted nearly 4,000,000 people.

Cordoba, France, Oct. 16.—Private advices from Barcelona state that six bombs were exploded in different portions of that city last night and several persons were hurt.

NEW AFFIDAVITS PRESENTED TODAY

RELATIVE TO COOK'S CLIMBING MOUNT MCKINLEY

THEY CLAIM HE DID NOT

Make the Ascent He Swears He Did—Disprove His Story.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Four more affidavits were published by the Globe today in connection with the investigation of Dr. Cook's expedition to Mount McKinley.
Three of them are by members of the Cook party. The fourth affidavit is that of Dr. John E. Shore, a physician at Leavenworth, Wash., who took of a conversation with Oscar F. Blankenship of the U. S. forestry service, in which Blankenship said Dr. Cook's claim to having climbed Mount McKinley are false, inasmuch as the foot was impossible in the short time during which Dr. Cook and Harrill were about. Blankenship was located near Mount McKinley at the time Cook's expedition was there.

LETTERS EXPLAIN HOW IT IS DONE

RULE BY COMMISSION IS SUCCESSFUL EVERYWHERE.

FURTHER EVIDENCE GIVEN

Even the Most Skeptical Should Feel Assured That It is a Success Wherever Tried.

If any doubt existed in the minds of the Gazette readers as to the success of the rule by commission the last letters, received by the commission today, in answer to the list of questions sent out, should sweep them away. True by the commission form of government appears to be more than a theory and its success wherever tried demonstrates that it is an ideal form of government for any city.
Later the Gazette proposes to print a summary of the Wisconsin law, so that all may thoroughly understand it. Like all innovations in politics the rule by commission has its enemies, but as one writer said: they are the mossbacks and politicians for revenue only. Thinking men who seek the best management of municipal affairs are enthusiastic over the way a city's business can be handled under this form of government and the saving that will come to any city adopting it. The following are some of the last letters received:
Des Moines, Iowa.
1.—How long since you adopted the commission form of government?
In use since April 1, '08.
2.—Can you state either approximately or definitely the saving to taxpayers over the former system of government?
Probably $100,000 last year.
3.—Do the improvements with regard to streets and city property in general show a favorable growth over conditions as they existed under the old form?
Yes.
4.—Are the people generally satisfied with the present form of government and in your opinion would they return to the old way?
Yes.
5.—Is law and order of the community better preserved—the police department handled more favorably?
Much more favorably.
6.—Are the public utilities dealt with to better advantage?
Yes.

Dear Sir:
I am sending you, under separate cover, a copy of our charter, recently adopted in Berkeley.
The Berkeley charter follows generally the commission plan of government, but is entirely novel in the provision relating to the election of a primary, but for a dual election; the first election, which would otherwise be a primary, is a conditional election. The provision is that if any one candidate at the first, or primary, election receives a majority of all the votes cast for that office, he is elected, and that office he is not included in the proclamation for the second election. The purpose is to encourage the voters to attend the first election, where the nominations are made. It worked with great success in Berkeley, the vote at the first election being considerably larger even than at the second. The provision, which was also followed at Colorado Springs, is found in subdivisions (21) and (22) of section 5, pages 11 and 15, of the charter.
Regarding the questions submitted, I have referred your letter to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who will, no doubt, reply.
Very truly yours,
HENRY L. HODGKINS, Mayor.

SEVEN INNINGS ALL
THEY COULD PLAY
Special and Local Insurance Agents
Cross Bats in Interesting
Game in Edgerton.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Edgerton, Oct. 16.—There were just seven innings in the game between the special and the local insurance agents at Edgerton yesterday. There were but seven innings to the whole game, but it ended in a tie, each team having scored nine runs. Up to the final sixth the local agents had won the best of it. They had a good battery composed of Fallerz of Ft. Atkinson as pitcher and Miller of Milwaukee as hitting bat. The score at the opening of this inning was eight to five and playing easy. Then Miller went up in a balloon. Every medical aid from the judges' stand failed to bring him round and before he came back to earth the damages had been done and the Specials had scored four runs. They made these after two men were out and the end seemed certain but for the blunders of the catcher. Then the locals fell on Huggs, the Specials' pitcher for a few good hits but Ceehlin, who with his pitcher came from Milwaukee was ready and they only crossed the home plate for one run. Then the game was over for the Milwaukee men had to take the train home. The umpire was L. T. Whitton and State Fire Marshal Parrott. It took all Parrott's energy to keep the crowd in order and prevent bloodshed after the fatal sixth, but the man who straightens out fire was equal to the occasion and threatened to turn the tub over if they did not stop and the riot ended. Then came the banquet and hours of good times for the visitors, many staying all night as guests of the Edgerton men. It was decided to repeat the game next summer and make it an annual affair.

SHORTAGE OF COAL HAS COMPLICATED MATTERS
Just about this time of the year, when the heavy fall traffic begins to move, the railroads find themselves in a bad fix for coal. This year Janesville has proved no exception to the rule and the scarcity of coal has complicated matters considerably at the new yards. With the coal sheds only half full it will be a difficult thing to keep the engines moving later than this evening unless more coal arrives before night.
R. H. Pochin, formerly superintendent of the Wisconsin division, but at present superintendent of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Ry., is in the city today.
Assistant General Manager W. D. Cantillon was in Janesville yesterday afternoon.
Engineer Hager reported for work on 51 this morning. Crowley, who has been relieving him, is on the board.
Engineer Ed. Blair reported for work this morning and went on the board. It is expected that he will take one of the night switch-engines.
Engineer Dudley and Fireman Dalton double-headed up from the south this morning and went on the board.
Fireman Urban is laying off today. Fireman Grantin has his place on the switch-engine.
Engineer Cole is on the six a. m. switch-engine again today.
Fireman Fleming acted as dispatcher or helper last night in place of Peter Rasmussen who took his old job as boiler-washer last night.
Engineer Green and Fireman Krueger of the N. W. division are spending the "week end" at Janesville, to give it the real society polish.
Conductor Astrup returned to work on the Watertown run this morning. Conductor Knight, who has been relieving him, returned to Baraboo.
Machinist Lawrence Hoffman states that the society function at Fox Lake last night was real exciting. There was one knock-out, a six round draw and two decisions. The last dance lasted eighteen minutes and went at full speed until the last song.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.
Engineer McCarthy and Fireman Knelling took a work train out this morning with engine 1242 for pile-driving work about three miles west.
Train 124 went out at 8:40 instead of 7:40 this morning.
The work train that has been in service in the yards for the past few days, was taken off this morning.
Engine 843 is in the house for repairs to the tank trucks.
Train 162 was abandoned today.

DR. BOYAJIAN TO BE GIVEN SECOND TRIAL
American Doctor Of Detroit Will Be Tried For Killing Of His Nephew
In Court Room.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—Arrangements are being made to begin the second trial next week of Dr. G. R. Boyajian, the Armenian, who shot and killed his nephew, Harootian Gostanlian, last spring. The first trial ended in a disagreement of the jury. A combination of medical experts appointed by the court is now examining the accused man with a view to determining his sanity.
The killing of Gostanlian occurred on April 30 last under circumstances of a most sensational character. The tragedy took place in a crowded courtroom, where Gostanlian was being tried with his aunt, the physician's wife, on a statutory charge. Dr. Boyajian fired four shots at his nephew, three of which found their mark. The slayer told a remarkable story of his discovery of the alleged relations between his wife and nephew whom he had brought from his home at Lynn, Mass., and was educating in a local medical college. Gostanlian, who lived several hours after he had been shot, maintained to the last that he was innocent of the charges preferred against him.

LOCAL FACTORY TO GO TO LINE CITY
According to Deloit Daily News, Bicknell Manufacturing Company
Plan New Move.
In the Deloit Daily News for last evening appears the following story of a Janesville firm:
"A large factory on the Shaw tract adjacent to the Interurban siding is among the possibilities in the very near future. The Bicknell Mfg. & Supply Co. have secured from George Shaw the offer of a free site embracing two acres; a building is feet wide by 100 feet long and 16 feet high is planned and railroad facilities are now being considered. The concern named above is located in Janesville. They contemplate engaging in the manufacture of heavy machinery, but do not care to announce just now what type of machines they will build.
"When Mr. Shaw was interviewed in connection with the proposed factory he admitted the truth of the information, but was surprised that the negotiations had become known to the public. He was reluctant to say more than that it was a bona fide deal and that it would go through. The Shaw family are known to be the owners of about 1,000 acres a few miles south of the city and they certainly would profit by the building of a manufacturing plant in the location of the proposed plant. George Shaw is a progressive and up-to-date businessman, at the same time is known to be conservative and not inclined to "give his nose" or "shoot his" of any kind, and his statement is therefore to be relied upon as absolutely true.

The Navel Orange.
The first we know of the navel orange, which is very valuable not only on account of its fine quality and taste, but also because of its being seedless, is of a single tree that was found growing on the northern shore of the Mediterranean sea. This was about the year 1565, or nearly 350 years ago. A monk in a monastery in that far away country painted a picture of the fruit and wrote a description of it, both of which may be seen in the library of the Roman Catholic university at Washington. Grafts of this tree were taken to Spain by the Moors several hundred years ago, and from Spain the trees were carried to South America by the Spaniards.

Blue Nets Catch Most Fish.
The owners of a St. Alb's fishing boat have made the important discovery that a net dyed as nearly as possible the color of the sea catches far more fish than one of the traditional brown. The discovery has just been tested and out of a fleet of 25 boats that which had its nets dyed blue made by far the largest catch—London Tit-Bits.

Cultivate a Happy Nature.
A happy nature is sometimes a gift, but it is also a grace, and can, therefore, be cultivated and acquired; and it should be a definite aim with those who are training a child.—Sausby.

No Haircuts in Oberammergau.
The Oberammergau passion plays will begin next year from May 11 to September 25. The burgomaster issued a notice the other day reminding the men that they must now let their hair grow long.

Advice to the Middle-Aged.
After you are 40, you may, if you are not a fool, choose your own rules, your own medicine and your own food. But you will find that the more you are in the open air and the more you are with other people the better you will succeed. You will also find that there is nothing gained by brooding long over failure.—Edward Everett Hale.
Smashing Statistics.
Why do some men insist on being anomalies and upsetting all our calculations? Here we are, horrified at the revelation of children drinking alcohol. And then comes a babe and suckling—Mr. Josiah Suckling of Wandsworth—who tasted home-brewed ale at the age of two, and has drunk it regularly for 98 years. And still drinking.—London Chronicle.

A SNAP
In Heavy Coats
From last season there are about thirty-five coats, nearly all full length garments and mostly full satin lined, the regular prices of which were $10.50 to $27.50. There are sizes for both ladies and misses and the styles are practically as good as the coat of today, but there being but one and two of a kind this sale is made to effect a quick clearance. Our Graduates Go to Better and
Better Positions
As "a tree is known by its fruits" so the Southern Wisconsin Business College
Is Known By Its Graduates' Repeated Successes
Works, not words, are what count in this world; and the ambitious young men and women who are willing to equip themselves with a thorough and practical business and shorthand education will always be in demand at a good salary.
Look at the long list of our students (over 80) holding positions in Janesville. You will find them in every business house in the city and almost invariably occupying the best positions. Some of them are earning salaries of $1200 a year.
One of our young men in Ft. Atkinson was recently called to Platteville at a salary of $75 per month. Our young man who preceded him in the same position was transferred to Denver at a salary of $125 a month.
Yesterday we received a call by telephone from one of the largest firms in Milwaukee asking for one of our young men bookkeepers and stenographers at a salary of $85 a month.
We could cite hundreds of instances of young men and women who have come to us, often with meager educations, and who, in a short time after completing our courses, are earning salaries of $75.00 to $125.00 a month. Think of the bright future in store for them.
It's a Matter of Training
No school can give you the right kind of training whose equipment is not thoroughly up to date. If you expect to fill a good paying position you must have the right kind of training and a school to give you the right kind of training must be supplied with modern office equipment. This is why our graduates always succeed. Everyone of them has a good position. There is plenty of room for every young man or woman who has the proper training. Let us train you and then when you are through
We Give You a Position or Refund You Your Tuition
Our enrollment this year is almost double of a year ago, a fact which speaks for itself as to the success of our methods.
Our Evening Classes Meet Monday, Tuesday and Thursday From 7:30 to 9:30
Why not enroll and improve the long winter evenings by getting acquainted with some one or more of the practical subjects which we teach? You will certainly increase your earning power. Everyone does. Don't put it off—you will not want to study when the evenings grow shorter. Write, call or telephone. Address me personally.

SCIENCE NOTES

Some interesting statements relative to the decreased length of life of electric rails as compared with those on steam roads was brought to light at a recent meeting of railroad men held in Chicago, England. Professor McWilliam, of the Sheffield University, said, in reference to the corrugation of rails on electric road he considered it to be a mechanical effect of the mechanism running on the rail. All the metallurgists present, he said, tried to find something that will wear longer under the conditions of service. Chief Engineer Wilcox, of the Metropolitan Railway, London, said that on steam roads, with the use of large wheels and springs, the life of rails was 25 years or more. However, with a low center of gravity, small wheels, the great weights of motors and the extraordinary acceleration and deceleration, which are features of electric service, the life of rails comes nearer being 20 months. He had found that rails rolled from steel, to which silicon additions had been made, had an increased life of about 110 per cent.

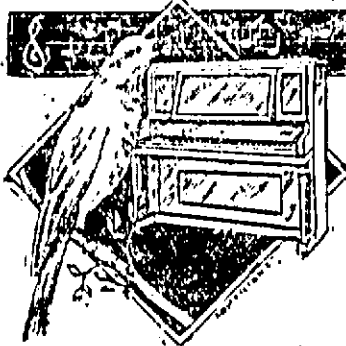

What are called continuation schools are to be inaugurated in connection with the public school system of Cincinnati, with the inauguration of the fall term. Apprentices and other employees of the shops will receive a regular course of training in educational matters along with shop training at their various places of employment, employers paying them for the time spent in class study the same as if they were at their tools or benches in the shops.

Two large electrically operated shovels are in use in some quarries near Chicago, which are interesting for the reason that they are the largest machines of their kind ever built and operate in their construction they are similar to steam shovels built for the same work so that a fair comparison of costs can be made. They are 110-ton machines, with buckets of a capacity of four cubic yards. Compared with the steam shovel, the electrically driven excavating apparatus has been found to present marked advantages of simplicity, economy and ease of operation. The hauling of water and coal is avoided, fewer operators are required to handle the machine, and a considerable saving of time is effected. For example, the cost of operating a certain electric shovel with 75-horsepower hoist, 20-horsepower thrust and 20-horsepower swing boom is 1.31 cents per cubic yard of gravel, dirt and sand, while similar work performed by steam shovels, it is estimated, would cost from 3 to 4 cents per cubic yard.

The new telephone system which is to be installed in the city of Peeking by an American firm, contemplates the erection of two switchboards, one at either end of the city, to cost approximately $150,000. The selection of American equipment was made upon the recommendation of a commission which made a tour of the world and investigated the systems in use in all the large cities. The installation must be delivered early next year and the work will be done under American supervision and largely by American workmen and the plant will remain under American supervision until the Chinese operators have mastered the work.

Cider to Cure Typhoid.

A French chemist has recently proclaimed that cider is an antidote for typhoid fever. The acid in it is the agent, as it destroys the germs. Cider in Europe is more generally used as a beverage than in this country. Germans appear to prefer cider after it becomes sour, but Americans usually prefer it while it is sweet.

What the piano player is today, it owes to its own artistic worth. The composer Chopin wrote piano compositions so difficult that musicians of his own period admitted they couldn't play them, still asked, "but who can play them?" Chopin played some of them himself. Others were beyond his strength—as the great Polonaise, depicting Poland's splendor and downfall. Since Chopin's day the development of the piano and the mastery of technique have gone hand in hand. Finally the American piano-player appeared and at a word the whole world of music was thrown open freely to everybody. Famous compositions over which critics quarreled were brought to any home. As one of the critics has said himself: "The piano-player has taken music out of politics."

If you have any idea at all of buying a player-piano, I believe that I could interest you in my superb line which includes the Baur, Kautz, Angelus, Hazelton-Chase & Baker, and Schiller. All these with either the 65 or 85 note action.

Men of high standard of qualifications demand for census supervisors.

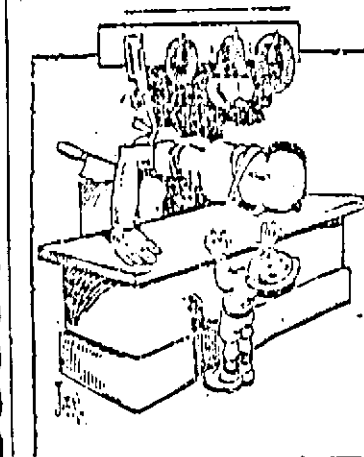

Professor W. D. Bailey.

Washington, D. C.—The high standard of qualification to which the supervisors for the 13th census must measure up finds no better illustration than is afforded by Professor William D. Bailey, the supervisor for the state of Connecticut, who is also professor of economics at Yale college. He was born at Springfield, Mass., May 7, 1873, and received his preparatory education at Williamstown. He graduated at Yale college, was granted the degree of Ph. D. from Yale university in 1896. In 1897 he was appointed assistant in political economy at Yale college, and two years later he became instructor, advancing in 1903 to the rank of assistant professor in statistics. In the mean time, in 1901, he was appointed instructor in sociology in the Yale divinity school. He is a member of the American Statistical association; one of the editors of the Economic Bulletin; president of the Boys' Club Council of New Haven; vice president of the Organized Charities of New Haven; chairman of the Civic Committee of the Civic Federation of New Haven; member of council of branch houses; director of Connecticut branch of Consumers' league; chairman of Committee on Municipal Program of National Municipal league; and was a special expert in an advisory in connection with the formulation of census schedules prior to his appointment as supervisor.

RAYMOND W. PULLMAN WHO IS INVESTIGATING FOREST FIRES.

Washington, D. C.—With the latest statistics showing more than $50,000,000 loss every year from forest fires in this country the United States government is banding every energy to thoroughly investigate this destructive force and to devise the best means for preventing forest fires whenever possible and for fighting them efficiently when preventative measures fail. In order to keep in touch with this important branch of its work the United States forest service has adopted the plan of sending one of its bright young men experts in forestry, Mr. Raymond W. Pullman, into the field to gather forest fire data at first hand. Mr. Pullman upon reaching a region that is suffering or has recently suffered from forest fires, traverses the burned area, makes estimate of the damage sustained; learns everything possible regarding the origin of the fire, and makes a study of the methods which prove most effective in combating the flames. Such short-range studies of conditions in the lumber regions at the cause of forest fires is more helpful in evolving ideas for preventative and remedial measures than would be no end of office work in Washington.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

President Eliot of Harvard college is being criticized severely for the following sentiment recently expressed: "The new religion will not afford safety, primarily, to the individual. It will think that the common good and will not look that character can be changed quickly." Charles Frederick Goss takes him to task for the statement and says in a late publication:

"We boldly venture the assertion that a religion that does not teach that character can be changed quickly has come from the closet and is headed for the scrap heap. Any man who has never seen character changed quickly has had but a meager experience of life. We have, ourselves, over and over again seen a character altered as quickly and as permanently as a garment dropped into a dye vat. We have seen the mechanism of human souls reversed like the engine in an automobile. Nobody knows better than we that character grows slowly, and is, ordinarily, altered imperceptibly; but so is it, also, with human hair, which on the other hand, at times turns white in a single night.

"This is not an academic question. It cannot be discussed in philosophical abstractions like the trinity. It is a matter of fact; a subject for scientific observation. In order to solve this problem, one is not permitted to retire to a study lined with five-foot book shelves (not twenty-five-foot book shelves) and settle it by means of dictionaries, encyclopedias and Pander's Indexes. The place to find the answer to this question is in such missions as Jerry McCauley's, on Water street and in the arena of life. It is wherever men and women are subject to the prodigious and revolutionary forces of human experience.

"The man who has not seen reckless dare-devils suddenly transformed by the love of pure young girls; or silly and selfish women suddenly altered in conduct and motive by the birth of a little child; or rakes and their feminine counterparts converted by a sudden realization of a life like that of Jesus Christ, has passed his time in a cloister; we should think.

"Upon reading this naive affirmation of the great educator, a beautiful procession of purified souls whom we have seen on the dusty highway, reappears before us in the crowded throng of memory.

"They have composed but a small fraction, it is true, of the multitude of people whose characters we have seen slowly developed and hardened into characterless form; but they have demonstrated the soul's plasticity; its capacity for sudden and permanent alteration.

"If we did not believe that there was a reversing gear in the human spirit, our hearts would break. We do believe it. We believe that there is a secret spring of action in every soul which, being touched, will turn back all the currents of thought, feeling and volition.

"Somewhere men touch that spring themselves; sometimes it is touched by another hand, a human hand perhaps; perhaps divine. But, touched it is and life begins anew."

Why this conflict of ideas between two men whose authority and honesty of conviction would not be questioned on almost any topic advanced?

It may perhaps be explained by the fact that President Eliot's life has been largely enfolded in an atmosphere of ideals where the ideal is influenced by appeals to reason, and where men are taught to think out the great problems of life and destiny.

If it were possible to pull the great rank and file of humanity up to this ideal plane, the "new religion," which absorbs the vision of President Eliot, might some day become a reality and men would become so absorbed in working for the "common good" that selfishness would be forgotten, but unfortunately these conditions belong to the impossible.

Mr. Goss is a miser with the great tide of humanity in the broad university of life, where the emotions have full sway and where the heart and not the mind controls action in large degree.

The world where the drunkard is transformed in a night, not through any process of reasoning, but simply because the fountain of life was made pure. It may take him months to establish a reputation for sobriety, but reputation is not character; that price less jewel was restored in an hour. He may be tempted and he may fall, but the chances are in his favor, for the forces at his command are greater than the combined forces against him.

The much-maligned "Billy" Sunday is an object lesson of heart transformation, and while his methods may be questioned his work speaks for itself.

He was playing ball with a league team in Chicago some years ago and enjoyed the reputation of being one of the best players on the team, but aside from that his name was not heralded as a model of morality.

Passing down a side street one evening the voice of Salvation army music arrested him, and when the little group of workers filed into the hall curiously prompted him to follow. Soon the old familiar hymns and the simple story carried him back to boyhood days and the mother where love and solace had ever followed him.

"Then he forgot the dingy hall and humble surroundings in a dream of the days, and the voice which came back to him in a plea to be good, was emphasized by the voice of the girl in the song as she placed a hand on his shoulder and said, "Come and listen to the voice that is ever pleading."

"Billy" Sunday played ball the next day, but his comrades soon discovered that he was not the same "Billy," and he never has been since, for his character was changed in an hour—not by any process of reasoning, but by that more subtle process, the power of love.

The loft of a building on Lake street, Chicago, has been occupied for many years as a cigar factory and on the first of the month a white-haired old man climbs the long flight of stairs to collect the rent. His step is firm, his nerves steady and he presents the picture of well-preserved mature old age.

One day, not long ago, the proprietor, who had just returned from a fishing trip, said to him:

"I don't suppose you take any interest in fishing?"

"You don't, hey?" was the quick response. "Why, young man, more than forty years ago I went up in the north woods of Wisconsin and bought an interest in a clubhouse, and every year I go up there fishing in the summer and shooting in the fall, and I am going yet."

"Forty years," said his friend; "that's a long time ago."

"Oh, yes," was the reply. "I was only fifty then; now I am ninety-three."

A sturdy character, which had been a lifetime in building, and as beautiful as rare, for the pathway of declining age is strewn with victims who have been transformed from health to helplessness without warning.

So in the moral realm there are sturdy characters who come on late in life and are completing the journey without a stumble.

They were never converted from drink, because they never formed the habit. The precepts of a godly mother were adopted and religiously observed, and so the roots and tendrils took hold of things substantial, early in their career, and the storm of temptation never moved them.

These are the people of the "new religion" which President Eliot preaches will represent the masses in the future. It will be a glad day for humanity when his prediction comes true.

In the meantime human weakness and human frailty abound in every nook and corner of the land. Young men are led astray and young women forsake the paths of virtue. Temptation attacks the traveler at every stage of the journey. Homes are broken up because of unfaithfulness and business honor sacrificed to greed and selfishness.

When the voice of the preacher, or the voice of the singer, or any other voice divinely inspired, arrests attention and wins back the wanderer, a transformation scene follows, and that is called conversion.

If repentance is genuine, reform is not gradual but instantaneous and a new character results. In these cases and they are numerous, the fountain of life is purified and every impulse and current goes out toward the right.

The gospel of Mr. Goss is the gospel of the lowly Nazarene. It may not be ethical but it satisfies the wants of weak and struggling humanity, for it stands out like a beacon light, pointing the way to harbor and safety.

Navigator's Date Line.

The International date line is an irregular line drawn arbitrarily on the map of the Pacific ocean near the one hundred and eightieth meridian of longitude, marking the place where navigators change their date on the trans-Pacific voyage. This change is necessary on account of the lengthening of one hour for every 15 degrees of travel westward. By traveling eastward a day will be gained, westward a day will be lost.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George M. Atchew Adams.)

If your abode's on Easy street, and Trouble's out of reach, most all the fellows that you meet will tell you that you're a peach. They'll tell you that in all their days, GOLD BRICKS they never knew in all this wilderness of Jays, as smooth a bird as you. While you have bullion in the keg, and rhyme in the jar, they'll come around to pull your leg, and say how smart you are. They'll glory in your growing fame, they'll bow and scrape and fawn; they'll load their babies with your name, and sleep upon your lawn. But when Misfortune comes along, and jolts you in the neck, and everything is going wrong, and even Hope's a wreck, and when with Dame Despair you sup, and have your fill of woe, your gold brick friends will pass you up, and say: "I told you so!" And then some quiet chap will come, and prove to be your friend; he'll say: "When things are on the bum, they're always sure to mend!" And he will dry your running eyes, and rub your weary feet, and help you once again to pick—along back to Easy street. And you will note that he is one who sang no servile tunes, when you were loaded down with moan, and insolence, and prunes.

NOVEL CLOTHES 'PIN

Made of Good Quality Wire and Won't Sell the Clothes.

Now the outfitting wooden clothes pin that has done its humble work so well for many, many years may have to give to a rival, designed by a Texas man, which is much more artistic and is said to be cleaner. The new clothes pin is made of wire, galvanized, and is guaranteed not to soil the clothes. The whole device shown in the illustration is made of one piece of wire, twisted and inter-twisted to form pin and clasp. The wire pieces of iron shown form a sort of spring.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A MAN AND HIS BABY.

You have heard about "the man behind the gun?"

Well, a more powerful combination than that is the baby behind the man.

What? Just a baby?

Just babies. You do not see them catalogued by the treasurer of the United States as part of the national assets, but they are big assets.

No Fourth of July orator refers to them as an item in our national resources, but they are large resources.

In fact, the baby crop is our biggest and best crop.

That is so not only because of the infinite worth of the babies themselves, but on account of their tremendous influence.

You have seen a selfish, careless woman changed into a thoughtful, careful mother by her baby. Did you ever note also what the baby does for its father?

Put the responsibility of fatherhood on a man. If there is any worth in him his backbone will immediately stiffen to his neck.

When the baby comes the thoughtless or imprudent father begins to see the realities of life. The future of his baby becomes a big concern.

A new incentive has come into the father's life. That precious little, weak and helpless little, appeals to him wonderfully. It is his own flesh and blood and dependent upon him. The sense of obligation stirs every drop of his manly blood. To account for the new stir in many a man's life you must know there is—

A baby behind the man!

Every employer will testify that, other things being equal, the employee with a baby is a sturdier worker than the man without a baby—more diligent, more anxious to give satisfaction.

And bank officials will tell you that many a savings account is started purely on baby's account. So far as he and his wife are concerned, think the father, why "we will get along." But baby—that's different.

It is also true that some fathers are led to live better lives morally because of the baby in the house.

The bachelor is not so. He lacks responsibility and incentive. He lacks balance. There is no baby.

And so it is veritably true that the worst family that can come to any people is a baby family.

"Race suicide" is something more than a subject to poke fun at. A dearth of babies means a dearth of manhood. Worse than financial panic is the calamity of the home without the baby.

Men do and dare, they work and save and strive, they stand upright and clean, because—through the steam in a twinkling. With one hand he can do work that would otherwise take two, or he can cut a finger on each hand and do two men's work. Another advantage of this device is that the fruit is not bruised by dropping into a bag as is the case when it is cut by a hand-hauled wheel. One man on a step ladder can strip an entire tree without losing a grape, except those that fall from being overripe.

Needless Fear

A lady came into my office in a very nervous and excited condition. I was going to half kill her. I extracted the offending molar and she says:

"Oh, what a fool I have been. Here I have walked the floor for nearly two weeks in awful pain, and you take out that tooth and never hurt me. I never will do that again if I can find you, Dr. Richards."

I have had many cases like this. People generally are filled with terror at the thought of a dentist, but if they draw less on imagination and had more faith in my work, dentistry would lose most of its terrors.

It is now proposed to build a protecting house of concrete around the ruins. If this protection is not forthcoming it is probable that "the lost church," as it is locally known, will be again buried beneath the sands which covered it for so many centuries. ## DEEP WATERWAYS BANQUET TUESDAY

ENGINEERING EXPERTS AND STATESMAN TO SPEAK.

OPENS "TWILIGHT" SEASON

Non-members Given Opportunity to Attend—Mayor I. F. Edwards of Dixon will be toastmaster. That the joint meeting at the hotel with the Rock River Improvement association which inaugurates the Twilight Club's fourteenth year, next Tuesday evening, will be one of the most memorable sessions ever held under its auspices is already assured by the array of distinguished men whose names appear upon the program. The post-prandial discussion to be entirely in the hands of the deep waterway advocates and Hon. I. F. Edwards, mayor of Dixon, Ill., and president of the association will act as toastmaster. Responses will be made by Hon. William A. McLean of Moline, Major C. B. Idehen of Rock Island, Capt. L. L. Wheeler of Burlington, U. S. Senator William Lorimer of Chicago, Congressman H. A. Cooper of Racine, Rev. Joseph Carden of Janesville, and George S. Parker of Janesville. All of the foregoing have signified their acceptance of invitations to speak and it is also reasonably certain that Congressman Frank O. Lowden and Charles E. Fuller of Illinois and U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin will be present and will be heard from.

Supper at 6:30 sharp. Club members are requested to gather at the building promptly at six o'clock so as to be on hand to welcome the visitors and an extra large supper will be served in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium under the direction of Secretary J. C. Kline. promptly at 6:30. Inasmuch as this meeting is of so general interest to the community, a limited number of non-members of the Twilight club who may desire to attend will be cordially accorded that privilege. They purchase tickets at C. S. Cleland's office by the three o'clock afternoon. More tickets will not be sold as the approximate number of those who are to be expected must be known at least a day in advance. The tickets will be sold at 60 cents. There are now 100 names on the roster of the Twilight club and it is a certainty that at least 75 visiting delegates will be attracted to Janesville by the big waterway meeting here on that date. The question of the advisability of deepening the Rock river for navigation purposes from Janesville southward must be a practical and vital one—and not of the nature that dreams are made of. The discussion draws to this city some of the foremost engineering authorities and statesmen of the middle west.

Increase in Dues.
The Twilight Club's committee of arrangements for the season, consisting of Sam Smith, E. J. Hauthorn, C. V. Korch, M. O. Mount, and Fred Clements, reports that the Y. M. C. A. auditorium has been engaged for all the meetings of the ensuing season, including the final Ladies' Night last week. It also reports that it will be necessary to raise the membership for the Ladies' Night entertainment, 75 cents and to levy an additional 50 cents for incidents for this year. All members are urged to present checks for that amount at the opening meeting or send them to C. S. Cleland in advance.

SEVENTEEN BLIND ON PENSION LIST

Quarterly Disbursements of $25 Are Now Being Made at the Court House.

Quarterly disbursements of the county pension fund for blind persons who do not have a stipulated regular income, are now being made and several drew their $25 yesterday. There are now seventeen recipients of this aid on the list. Soldiers' relief fund payments will be made for the months of October and November of the 20th of the present month. Twenty old soldiers and their families will receive from $4 to $8 for the two months and an aggregate of $800 will be distributed.

TWO NEW CARRIERS AT THE POSTOFFICE

Increase in the Force at Local Postal Office and Names of Men Appointed.

BUSINESS COLLEGE DANCE LAST NIGHT

Students of Janesville Business College Entertained Guests From Beloit School.

Students of the Beloit Business college were the guests of the scholars of the Janesville Business college at an enjoyable dancing party held in the college rooms of the Janesville school last evening. The affair was attended by about one hundred people, mostly students and graduates, sixty coming up from Beloit in a special car. The six-piece orchestra of the Beloit school, led by C. J. Johnson, furnished the inspiration for the dancing, which lasted until after twelve o'clock. The Beloit pupils returned about one.

Following the dance an excellent musical program was given by some of the best musicians among the students attending the colleges, as follows:
Overture—Orchestra.
Piano solo—Miss Nelson of Beloit.
Violin solo—Miss Stone of Beloit.
Cornet solo—O. J. Johnson.
The hall was very prettily decorated for the occasion, the design being worked out by one of the students. Long streamers of green and white crepe paper were suspended from the sides to a chandelier in the center, were twined about the orchestra stand, and were used in forming a booth where punch was served. Draperies of red, white and blue were hung apart the portion of the floor to be used for dancing from the part where those who were not dancing might rest. Autumn leaves and college banners adorned the walls.

FORMER RESIDENT'S TROUBLE IN COURT

Irving I. Tarrant, Who Lived Here Some Ten Years Ago, Sued by Sister-in-Law.

Irving I. Tarrant, who some ten years ago was employed by E. H. Holmstrom in his pharmacy, and later went to Milwaukee where he is now an alderman, is having trouble with his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. O. Mount, a native of Janesville. Mrs. Mount has a $12,000 residence and land in South Dakota, and a drug store which has been put into the hands of a receiver by the court. In speaking of his troubles, Mr. Tarrant stated:
"It is true that I owe my sister-in-law $1,000 and let the judgment against me be taken by default. I did not defend the case because I admitted that I owed the money and because I intended to pay it. When I erected a flat building costing $22,000 I could not swing it alone and I had to borrow. About that time my sister-in-law stated she had some money to invest and asked me where to put it. I mentioned several places, adding that I needed some money myself for the flat building. She decided to put it into that building. Then I bought a sheep ranch in North Dakota of 2,144 acres, which is now worth from $16 to $18 an acre, or about $32,000. The money in question is in that. In the spring of this year she asked me for her money. I told her I could not give it to her until the Dakota property was disposed of. She would not wait, but put the matter in the hands of a lawyer. The western property is in litigation which will be settled this month and then she will get her money."

PASTOR TO ADDRESS OLD CONGREGATION

Rev. Higley, Pastor at Beloit for Twenty-five Years, Will Preach There Sunday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Beloit, Oct. 16.—Rev. H. P. Higley, who came from Massachusetts to take part in the fiftieth anniversary of the Second Congregational church, and was taken ill, has recovered sufficiently to be able to preach in his old church tomorrow. Mr. Higley was for twenty-five years pastor of the Second Congregational church and he has to have had an important part in the anniversary service. He has been visiting in Janesville for the past few days.

Prof. James A. Haskins of the college, who has been acting as pastor of the Second Congregational church for the past two years, has received a call to the presidency of a college at Pomona, California and has gone to Pomona to investigate the situation.

Alleged Forger Caught.
Harry McAdams, who is accused of forging a check on the proprietors of the Beloit skating rink, was arrested yesterday afternoon at Elgin and has returned to this city, with an officer, to stand for the charge in the municipal court. He had been on a spree.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR THE CONVENTION

Teachers Will Attend Meeting at Milwaukee Nov. 4 and 5—Janesville Speakers on Program.

Superintendent of Schools H. C. Buell and Mrs. Georgia Hyde, instructor in music, will speak before the teachers' association in Milwaukee, November 4 and 5. Besides the two instructors, practically all the teachers in the schools of the city will be present at the meetings and the schools will be closed to allow them to attend. In the graded school section Prof. Buell will talk "History in the Grades" on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock in the city hall. He is also chairman of the nominating committee of ten members which select the names of all candidates except the president, candidates for that office being selected at a primary.
Mrs. Hyde will have charge of the meeting of the musical section Thursday afternoon at two o'clock in the city hall. On the following day she will lead the round table discussion.

Birthday Club Held Gathering at Ogden H. Fether's Residence Last Evening.

W. H. Greenman, who moves to Beloit this coming week to make his home, was the guest of honor at a six o'clock dinner given last evening by Ogden H. Fether to the members of the famous Birthday Club. With the exception of William O. Wheeler who was unable to be present, and Norman L. Carle, who was called to Chicago, the club composed of W. H. Greenman, George M. McKay, Victor P. Richardson, Charles S. Putnam, Peter P. Mount, George Simpson, and H. O. Carter, were present.

INTERESTING GAME HAS BEEN ARRANGED

Plans of the Chicago White Sox Will Be in the Box for the Janesville Players.

Manager Ward has secured the services of Plena, the young White Sox twirler for the Sunday game with the Beloit All Stars. "Plena" Miller is to be given a chance on third and should make good, while Anderson will backstop the Chicago side. Holbrow is at first, Briggs will hold down second, New, the Madison wonder, is at short, Lewis at center, Rowland of Racine at right, and Ireland at left. It promises to be an interesting game from start to finish.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Umpired Game: F. E. Hirsch and O. Halverson went to Beloit this afternoon to act as umpires at the Beloit Northwestern college football game.

Lost Girl Found: After a search by the police officers had proven unavailing, the little seven-year-old Leech girl who had failed to put in an appearance at her home, 301 West Milwaukee street at the close of school yesterday afternoon, reached the residence early in the evening.

Pocketbook Stolen: Mrs. Belle Micka, who resides at 216 West Milwaukee street, over the Chinese laundry, complained to the police this afternoon that a pocketbook containing $10, left upon a bench during the morning, had been stolen.

Teachers' Examination: Teachers examinations in all grades of work were conducted today by County Superintendent O. D. Antisdel at the Lincoln school. About thirty teachers were examined.

COURT REFUSED TO BREAK INJUNCTION

And City Will Have to Keep Off Garfield Avenue "Missing Link" Until Next February.

In circuit court this morning Judge Grimm denied City Attorney H. L. Maxwell's motion to dissolve C. S. and C. W. Jackson's injunction restraining the municipality from removing "No Throughfare" signs from the Garfield avenue "missing link" or otherwise using it as public property. The court based its refusal on the ground that the demand for a sanitary sewer in that part was not sufficiently urgent to warrant any interference with the rights of the owners of the abutting property until such time as the case might be taken up and decided on the merits. The action to decide what rights the city has in that locality will be tried during the February term. Attorneys Inger & Ruger represent the Messrs. Jackson.

Capt. A. R. Palmer, who has been engaged in rescue work in Chicago and is a leading spirit in the Citizens' League, a temperance organization, will address the Y. M. C. A. Men's Meeting tomorrow afternoon.

GIVES IDEA AS TO THE REAL PURPOSE

Mrs. Clarence Mackay Tells What Equal Franchise Society Plans to Accomplish.

Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay of New York, having been asked to define the purpose and the position of the Equal Franchise Society, of which she is the president, has given out the following for publication:
"The purpose of the Equal Franchise Society is to promote the welfare of women by securing the national, state and local suffrage for women, because the Equal Franchise Society believes in the political and civil equality of men and women."
"The electorate should represent the whole nation, and a system of government under which one-half of the nation are disfranchised, is not truly a representative national system."

"We are inviting people to become members of our Society in order to contribute to the movement of public education by the promotion of equal causes. We feel that in order to secure the enfranchisement of women it is not necessary for us to limit our methods which are being used in other countries. American manhood has always treated American womanhood in such a way as to make us feel that we shall ultimately achieve our aim without sensationalism. I will not endorse the militant methods."

"It has been repeatedly said to me by men in public life and men in private life, that when the women of the United States enter in demanding the vote, they will get it and I think that is perfectly true, and that, therefore, what is needed to further the suffrage cause, is to give all sorts and kinds of speakers who will explain just what the suffrage will mean to us all. Most of the men I have met are apparently willing to co-operate with us, and have listened to what we have said with courtesy and consideration. It has not seemed necessary in the past, and I do not think it will be necessary in the future, for us to go out to the street corners and shriek our propaganda at the passerby."

"We have but to plead our cause without raising our voices to those men and women who are not with us. We can always assume that they are not willfully ignorant of what woman suffrage should mean. We want them to appreciate the fact that throughout this country the strongest suffragists are those women who devote their best energies towards the developing of their children in order to make them citizens worthy of our great country."

"We do not think that as an organization we have a right to demand an expression of opinion from the candidates in this coming election. We prefer to leave politics alone until our sex is sharing the responsibility with the other sex. I feel that the main reason for suffrage is community of interest between the sexes. It is not in any sense a fight for right, but the logical evolution of justice. The Equal Franchise society wishes to establish a platform upon which such speakers as Bishop McVicar of Rhode Island, Mr. Everett Colby, and perhaps Mr. Martin W. Littleton, will express their belief in suffrage, and for that reason we have leased the Garden Theatre and arranged our course. We wish to enlist that part of the community, regardless of sex or creed, who will co-operate with us because of their loyalty to their country. Among the most recent additions to our membership are such women as Mrs. William Schellin, Mrs. Milton Barger, Mrs. Rudolph Schirmer, Mrs. Archibald Alexander, Mrs. Everett Colby, Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mrs. Walter Maynard, Miss Spence, Mrs. Paul Morton, Miss Elizabeth Churchill, Miss Dorothy Whitney, and many others, as can be seen on our list."

LOCAL TEAMS PITTED AGAINST EACH OTHER

Southern Wisconsin Business College Eleven and High School Team Playing This Afternoon.

At Athletic park this afternoon the Janesville high school football team is lined up against an eleven composed of students from the Southern Wisconsin business college. The contest this afternoon is the outcome of a practice game played a short time ago, which proved so interesting that it was decided to have the two teams play a regular game. The high school is expected to be able to conjecture what the game will be like, with the Stoughton high school, Stoughton having beat up the "college" team yesterday. Although the question of victory, the superior team will not be settled until the contest is over. The halves will last twenty-five or thirty minutes each.

In regard to weight and size the elevens are about evenly matched and it will probably be a question of the better and more skillful players winning. The teams will be lined up as follows:

PIANO MARATHON IS THE LATEST FEATURE

Attempt to Break All Records For Continuous Playing—Started Last Night.

When J. M. Waterbury, who is at present trying to break the world's record for continuous piano playing at Kimball's furniture store, first engaged in a contest of this sort, he had for his opponent a young woman who at the end of twenty-four hours of continuous playing, fell from the stool, hysterical from exhaustion and nerve strain. This took place nine years ago in New York City and was the first piano "marathon" ever held in this country. Mr. Waterbury played twenty-five hours and the young lady twenty-four, but neither had any preliminary training.

Since that time Mr. Waterbury has been engaged in this novel occupation and has established a record that has not yet been equalled. At Des Moines in a dual contest, he played 24 hours and 15 minutes.
The strain brought upon the player in a trial of physical endurance such as this is, can hardly be comprehended. After the first ten hours, it is an unrelenting struggle against weariness, a nerve-racking fight against drowsiness. It is hardly to be wondered at that the player is able to engage in a contest but once a week. Were he to do it oftener, it would be suicidal. At the end of the struggle, when the limit of human endurance has been reached, the player's hands and arms are puffed and swollen, while he becomes less and less able to continue playing.

There is a bright chance that, in his contest at Janesville, Mr. Waterbury will be able to hang up a new world's record. He has been playing since eight o'clock Friday evening and at 3:30 this afternoon was still in fairly good condition although he had begun to feel the strain. To break the record he will have to play until 12:18 tonight.

Marriage Licenses: Applications for marriage licenses have been filed by Emory Perkins and Frances Donnelly, both of Beloit; Henry Eshenbush of the town of Turtle and Mary M. Tamplin of La Prairie; and Muriel T. Mills of Janesville and Kenneth Wolby of Chicago.

New Incorporation: Articles of organization of the Indian Ford Co. of Janesville, capital $24,000, a company organized to do all manner of trading in all sorts of real, personal, and mixed property, have been filed with the register of deeds. The incorporators are William Smith, Louis Avery, and Miss Leora Westlake.

The Disadvantage of Being Small.
"I suppose that I ought to be a very thankful girl for the success I have made in my chosen profession," Isabel D'Armond, the dainty little actress who has made such a hit in "The Beauty Spot," which is here Monday, almost tearfully explained, "but I just can't be wholly happy and be such a tiny thing to."

"When I was only a tot of seven years my crowning ambition was to grow up into a six-footer when I became a woman, and just to think that this is all the further up in the world I have succeeded in getting," and she ruefully surveyed herself in the dressing room mirror where only fifty-six inches of charming femininity was revealed. He told them that I went out every night and never got back home until midnight.

"Well, a great big man with three looking men, met me at the door the next night and roughly grasping my arm, told me that I was under arrest. I was nearly frightened to death, as I could not recall robbing a bank, stealing chickens or any of the horrible crimes which would lead to my arrest."

"Without a word of explanation he took me to the headquarters of the society and there I found out what it was all about. I never saw a madder bunch of people than they were at that society. It struck me as very funny—after it was all over."

denly I felt myself pulled down in a seat behind me and found myself in the lap of an old gentleman, who had taken me for a child and had pulled me on his knee. The worst of it was there were several friends of mine in the crowd and I never heard the end of the affair."

"Yes," continued Miss D'Armond, as she started for the stage to respond to her cue, "it is not nice to be too small."

"Little Johnny Jones," Much interest in being manifested by the theatre-going public of this city over the approaching engagement at the Myers theatre, Thursday, Oct. 21, of last season's biggest musical hit, "Little Johnny Jones."

"Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Give My Regards to Broadway," and other musical gems from "Little Johnny Jones" have been sung, whistled and played on the piano and by orchestra to all over the country. Therefore, to a large degree the music of the production is familiar to most of our theatre-goers. No musical play has been presented in many seasons that has attained such an enormous degree of popularity as was attained last season by the phenomenal run of almost an entire season in New York, over three months in Chicago, four weeks in Philadelphia, and several weeks in Boston. Its present tour has been arranged only to embrace the principal cities, therefore, this town can consider itself fortunate in being visited by such a notable attraction.

"Little Johnny Jones" was written by George M. Cohan, who also composed all the music, and has given the present production the benefit of his personal stage management. Mr. Cohan is a prolific young writer, only twenty-seven years of age, yet he is the author and composer of those very successful musical plays, "Thirty-Three Minutes From Broadway," "The Governor's Son," and "Run, Run, Run for Office," in addition to a large number of vaudeville sketches and a formidable list of songs. "Little Johnny Jones" will be seen in this city with the same magnificence and complete production which characterized its engagement in the principal cities last season. The scenery and wardrobe is claimed to be among the most beautiful and extensive in America, the three acts being gorgeously set to represent the exterior of the Hotel Cecil in London, the steamship pier at Southampton, and a street scene in the Chinese quarter of San Francisco, while the ensemble wardrobe includes eleven complete changes, the whole representing an investment of many thousands of dollars. The company is one of the largest travelling, including over seventy-five people, and a cast of principals, embracing the names of many stage favorites. As "Little Johnny Jones" is undoubtedly the most famous attraction that will visit this city this season it goes

THIRTY-SEVEN DEAD AND MANY INJURED

SOUTHERN STORM LEAVES DEATH AND DESTRUCTION IN ITS PATH.

PROPERTY LOSS ENORMOUS

Many People Injured—Shiloh Battlefield Park Is Damaged—Fire at Denmark Adds to Horrors of the Storm.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 16.—With 37 known dead, 13 others reported killed, scores of persons seriously injured, many painfully bruised and hurt, and with the loss of property running close to a million dollars, if not exceeding that amount, the horror and havoc wrought by the storm which swept over middle and western Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and portions of South Carolina and Arkansas is hourly growing worse, as reports from various remote places arrive with the resumption of wire communication, which is gradually being restored to a normal condition.

Towns Are Destroyed.
The storm was probably the worst that has visited this section of the south in years, being intense in its destroying fury and widespread in its area. Halves of counties were laid in waste and ruin. Towns were destroyed, plantations were greatly damaged and from all sections of the storm-swept area come reports of loss of life, ruin and desolation. The number now known dead follows: Denmark, Tenn., one; Mulberry, Tenn., Thomas Helm; Stantonville, Tenn., 13 people reported killed (unconfirmed); Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., six; near Stantonville, seven; near Cartersville, Ga., one; Scottsboro, Ala., three; Wyeth Cove, Ala., eight; near Scottsboro, Ala., one; Stanton, Tenn., one; Nixon, Tenn., five; near Mariaduke, Ark., one.

Apparently the storm broke over middle and west Tennessee and proceeded in a southeasterly direction across the state into Alabama and Georgia, assuming the proportions of a West Indian hurricane as it swept along, leaving desolation and ruin behind. It came practically without warning and in some places it is reported that the wind attained a velocity of 90 miles an hour.

Fire Adds to Horror.
While only one death occurred at Denmark, Tenn., the horrors of the storm there were greatly heightened by the fire which started amid the ruins and debris of what was once a flourishing little town in middle Tennessee. The fierce flames unquenched by the heavy downpour of rain and hail, rapidly consumed what few dwellings and storehouses were left standing and a scene of desolation is presented. Two hundred people were rendered homeless and have appealed to neighboring towns and cities for immediate aid.

Shiloh Battlefield Damaged.
Reports of five deaths and heavy damage come from McNairy county, where is located the famous battlefield of Shiloh and which was directly in the path of the storm. Homes and stores were leveled to the ground and great trees in the historic National cemetery were uprooted.

Many handsome and imposing statues in the National park were torn from the pedestals and the property damage estimated at $100,000.

At Russellville, Ala., it is reported that 40 inhabitants were seriously injured.

A property damage of at least $50,000 is estimated at Cartersville, Ga., while that at Atlanta will run between $80,000 and $100,000. One life was lost at the former place and in Atlanta hardly a house escaped damage.

IS DEBARRED FROM THE MAILS.

"Fraud Order" Is Issued Against Bloomington Company.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Suggestions as to how to make money by embezzlement have got the Western Specialty Company of Bloomington, Ill., into trouble with the post-office department. Based on allegations made by post-office inspectors, the department has issued a so-called "fraud order" against the Western Specialty Company, denying it the use of the mails.

The company advertised that it wanted, at once, "ladies to copy letters at home; can earn $10 to $20 per week. Send ten cents for particulars." To correspondents who sent ten cents, the company forwarded a circular asking for an additional 50 cents for "complete instructions, plan of work, packing, mailing, etc."

Blame Socialists for Split.

Toledo, O., Oct. 16.—That the split in the Ohio Federation of Labor is part of a socialist movement to injure the American Federation of Labor is the declaration of a resolution adopted by the bolters' faction of the Ohio Federation of Labor. The resolution intimates that Max Hayes of Cleveland, who was one of the leaders of the fight to seat electrical workers and Central Labor union delegates in opposition to the wishes of the national council, desires to head an opposition organization of union labor.

Prison Sentence 140 Years.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 16.—Melvin Crowell and Henry Brown, who for years systematically robbed the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul trains in Rockford, were sentenced to the penitentiary. The aggregate sentence of each defendant was 140 years.

To Him Who Waits.
Most of the things that come to him who waits are disappointments.

Charm.
Tact, courtesy, good manners, neatness of appearance, absence of obnoxious mannerisms, gentleness, amiability, deference—all these enter into that composite quality we call charm, which excites in its possessor, so many shortcomings we call by harsher names in those who have it not.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases. Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as to what you feel, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS IN "THE BEAUTY SPOT," HERE MONDAY

fleeted. The humble chronicler of this story modestly remarked that what she lacked in size, she made up in quality and it brought a faint smile to the demure little face.
"All my life," she continued, "I have felt out of place in the company of regular sized grown people and you know it is awfully tough to have to look up to everybody, even your maid."
"But you must have had some amusing experiences out of it?" was the question asked. Miss D'Armond laughed, a cheer, sweet, childlike, rippling laugh.
"Yes, I have—several. One of them

Miss D'Armond leaned back against the wall and treated me to another one of her musical laughs. Then she became reminiscent again.
"Another time I was coming from rehearsal, and was attired in a simple little shirt waist, but and black skirt. I suppose that I did look like a kid. I had a frightful headache and as I sat in a Broadway car, I could not help crying. An old gentleman, who sat opposite, watched me attentively, and when I finally left the car he followed. I went into the drug store to get a headache powder and on coming out on the street again, the kindling old soul noticed me at the same without saying that the theatre will be crowded on this occasion.

Ensembles of dazzling gorgeousness and a host of novel stage effects fairly bewilder the senses at the first glimpse of "The Golden Girl," the latest production of Hough, Adams and Howard, which comes to the Myers theatre, Tuesday, Oct. 19.

The curtain rises on the grounds at West Point, with the stars and stripes fluttering in the breeze and the Hudson gleaming between the Palisades in the distance. The appeal of the unoccupied stage eloquent with a thrilling significance, is instantaneous. The atmosphere of romance, subtle but real, marks both the opening and the close of this interesting musical play. Between there is the dream scene with its novelties, in which the two principal characters have visions of the past and future. He has boasted of his noble ancestry, but now sees them as they really were. The four branches of his family tree being a convict, a pirate, an anarchist and a loan shark, all of humorous proclivities. The girl also dreams that she sees herself married to another, a rich suitor, and turned into a statue of gold.

The close of the dream marks the finale of the second act, which is the most magnificent spectacle ever staged for a musical comedy. A shower of gold falls upon a ballet of glorious golden trappings, surrounding a golden statue, and like the scene in Henley's poem, forms a picture that dazzles the eye by the sheer magnificence of scenic effect, but this beautiful scene is scarcely more impressive than the climax of the first act, when the two old soldiers, from the north and south, lower the West Point flag at the signal of the sunset gun to the inspiring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

"The Golden Girl" contains a number of musical hits, the most popular being "There's a Woodpecker Knocking on My Family Tree," and "I Can't Love Everybody."

The cast includes Marie Flynn, Jim

SCENE FROM "THE GOLDEN GIRL"—CHARLES HORN AND PETER RAYMOND AS THE "NORTH" AND "SOUTH," WHO DON'T KNOW THE WAR IS OVER—WHICH IS AT THE THEATRE TUESDAY.

In particular struck me as being very funny and happened only recently. Mr. Casad, our press agent, conceived the idea that it would be an awfully good story to tie the officers of the Children's Aid Society in New York upon me, and without telling me a word about it, he complained to them that a little girl and her "careless" mother who were stopping at a prominent Broadway hotel, needed watching. He told them that I went out every night and never got back home until midnight.

"There, there, little girl," he said, "cheer up and don't cry—see the nice bag of candy I have brought for you. Now run along home and tell your troubles to mamma and all will be well."

"Another time I was in the street with mamma and as the car was crowded I stood in front of her. Sud-

JOE CANTILLON, DEPOSED WASHINGTON MANAGER.

Washington, D. C.—Joe Cantillon is stirring up a nasty mess in the American League. His latest accusation is that the league owns the Washington club, 51 per cent of it.

He also says that the deal by which the Detroit team was strengthened was a deal engineered by him Johnson, president of the American league, himself.

Incidentally the American league is beginning to take cognizance of some of Cantillon's charges. The league is making a thorough investigation of the "tipping" business on the New York American's grounds, exposed by Trainer Harry Tuthill of the Tigers.

Cantillon says he is ready to prove anything and everything.

By many it is suspected that this move on the part of Cantillon is simply for the purpose of gaining revenge because he was deposed from the management of the Washington club. There have been many rumors of what he is to do next year among them and that he is back of a scheme to launch another outlaw league which will pose as a major organization and back the present big leagues. Whether anything comes of Joe's charges remains to be seen after the more important affairs of the world's series are gotten out of the way.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

HAVE you any parlor tricks?

Because if you want to be a popular guest you should have.

When you are one of a roomful of young people who have gotten tired of just playing cards or talking can you do anything to amuse them?

If you can, you will probably be one of the people who are always wanted at every gathering.

But if you are the kind who sits back and yawns at such times, and wishes someone would do something interesting, you'll probably be one of the people whom only those who can't very well help themselves invite out.

Of course, the most valuable parlor trick is musical skill. The girl who can—and will—go to the piano and either play and sing herself, or better still—get the crowd singing, is the hostess' joy.

Any girl who has taken music lessons ought to be able to do this. But it is surprising how few girls can—or will.

"One never plays anything but classical music." Splendid to know the classical music, of course, but would it do any harm to be able to play some of the best of popular music that appeals to ordinary people?

Another doesn't "feel she plays well enough to play in public. She's awfully out of practice." Of course, it's good to set a high standard for oneself, but give me the girl who says she can't do much, but what she can she's glad to do, goes straight to the piano, makes some mistakes maybe, but gets the crowd singing.

A third never plays without her notes. She ought to.

It's my heartiest advice to any girl who can play the piano to have half a dozen of the best popular selections at her fingers' ends, ready to play without notes, at any time.

"But if I don't play, what shall I do?" asks the musical girl.

Well, perhaps you can recite. If you have any gift that way, though it's far too slender for professional training, it's a good thing if you can possibly afford the time and money to train it to use for your own and your friends' entertainment.

The girl who can spring up and recite a clever monologue or a funny poem to bridge a gap of boredom is as popular a guest as the musical lady.

And if you haven't any talent like these? Well, there are other parlor tricks not to be despised.

Can't you remember some new nonsense rhymes and start the crowd swapping them?

Can't you remember how to do some clever little card trick or some other amusing trick?

Can't you, instead of forgetting them just as promptly as you learn them, as so many people do, keep a stock of the funny little games you've played or "studied" you've done at other "soirees" and be ready to produce them any time they're needed?

All these things sound absurdly simple, and yet I know a great many girls who, when the fun lags, know no way whatsoever of starting it along.

Of course, there are foolish people who are always trying to put themselves forward, and keep the attention of the company. We all dislike them. But I'm not asking you to be that sort of person.

Ruth Cameron

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, October 16, 1869.—Sovereign Accident.—This forenoon a young man by the name of Charles Hill, who was at work in Myers' new hall, fell a distance of thirty feet striking his head on the corner of a plank, and fracturing the outer table of the skull and bruising him otherwise severely. No one saw him fall, and the first known of the accident was when his father found him lying where he struck, in an insensible condition. He is in a comfortable state at present, though his wounds are as a matter of course decidedly ugly.

Address By Mr. Moody.—The officers of the Y. M. C. A. have received a letter announcing the fact that Mr. D. L. Moody of Chicago will speak before that organization on Tuesday evening next, in the Baptist church in this city.

A Smash.—The frame of a big dormer window for Myers block which was this afternoon being hoisted to the roof by tackle and pulleys, was precipitated to the ground by the breaking of a timber, and dashed to pieces. The accident involved a loss of about $50.

Jottings.—Jack Frost held a perfect carnival last night. It was something "long to be remembered" by the Meadow family and the Woods—this morning looking russet, serene and yellow.

A vein of iron ore, said to be the best in the country, has recently been found on a farm ten miles from this city. We have seen the ore.

LIBRARY BOARD TO BUY A FEW BOOKS

Fund Available for the Purpose is Entirely Inadequate But Best Possible Use Will Be Made of It.

At a meeting of the library board which was held this week the librarian, Miss Shauven, was instructed to prepare and submit a list of new books needed and arrangements will be made to place whatever volumes can be purchased on the shelves sometime in November. The cost of keeping up the building and the other operating expenses are so large that the board is enabled to purchase only about $700 worth of new books each year, an amount woefully too small for an institution of its size. With the exception of some fiction purchased with the proceeds from rental of extra copies the library has been unable to add anything to its collection since last July. The common council was asked to appropriate $5,000 for the coming year but this was reduced to $4,500, the usual appropriation. The board fixed the rental of the hall in the second story at $2 a day for afternoons and $3 for evenings when lectures are required.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE DELEGATES

Auto and Launch Owners Willing to Help Committee Asked to Offer Their Machines or Boats.

On Tuesday next, Janesville will entertain the Rock River Improvement association, an organization whose purpose it is to open the Rock river for navigation from Janesville to the mouth, thus giving manufacturers and wholesalers a new field for their product and cheaper freight rates. In order to entertain the delegates which will come from every city along the course of the river, the committee are very anxious to have automobiles with which to take them around the city. All owners of autos who will donate their use, with a driver, for this purpose, will please notify H. H. Bliss at the Gazette office. Launch owners who would be willing to take parties up the river will kindly confer with George M. McKay. This association was organized at Dixon, Ill., a year ago and already has done much in the way of agitation towards securing an appropriation from congress for a preliminary survey of the river with a view of making a report as to the advisability of making the stream a navigable one.

Tailor Suit of Serge.
This is a modest but practical little tailor suit of dark blue serge. The jacket closes directly down the front, the collar being high and fastening snugly around the wearer's throat. From collar to bust line the closing is effected by means of small covered buttons and frogs; below this the fastening is invisible. The size of the fashionable button, by the way, is noticeably diminished this fall, only the smaller ones being considered smart. A line of buttons and loops trim the sleeve, the slash at the hip and the upper portion of the skirt. The skirt has a neatly cut upper portion and a pleated flounce.

Student at Mount Union College Victim of Upper Classmen.

Alliance, O., Oct. 16.—Tarred and feathered from head to foot and shivering from cold and exhaustion, Forrest Whitten of Cambridge, O., a freshman in Mount Union college, stumbled into Miller hall, the college dormitory, and asked assistance from his classmates. He had been teased by upper classmen. A rigorous investigation by the faculty has produced no known results.

According to Whitten's story, he was summoned from his room late at night and surrounded by 30 masked students. All wore their coats inside out as a further protection against discovery. The hazers hurried him to near-by woods, stripped him and after whirling his hair with horse clippers applied the tar and feathers. Falling short in the supply of the latter, they rolled their victim in dead leaves, and, after dancing and singing about him, left him to find his way to his room.

Whitten, although popular among his classmates, is reported to have talked more than the upper classmen thought a freshman should. After being cleaned off with kerosene he was able to attend classes.

SPAIN IS ON VERGE OF BIG CIVIL WAR

Monarchy is Doomed Once Rebels Get Started—Papers Denounce the Government.

Madrid, Oct. 16.—A half-dozen bomb explosions within a stone's throw of the royal palace has brought the first bloodshed in the impending civil war against the monarchy. Guarded by a double cordon of imperial troops King Alfonso rebels at his enforced restraint within the walls of the palace, and in angry voice and towering rage demands that he shall be allowed his freedom that he may put to a test his popularity with his subjects.

Further bomb outrages are reported at various points in Spain, and only the prompt action of the soldiers in subduing the uprisings in their initiative has prevented a reign of terror and general riots.

It is conceded once the revolutionists get started the monarchy is doomed, a sentiment is a firebrand to set loose a general uprising that will not stop at anything short of the overthrow of the government and the establishment of a republic.

The cortes reopened despite some opposition among the members of both the senate and congress to a sitting at this time.

The Herald declares that the present government has caused the world to point the finger of shame at Spain and exhorts liberals of all shades of opinion to rise "against a government which treats an anarchy those who do not kneel before the clerical scepter."

The Official Gazette publishes a decree restoring the old system which permits a payment of money indemnity in lieu of military service.

The Universal Catholic says that it is not surprised at the former manifestations, which it considers an indication that "the anarchistic and Masonic forces are inspiring a rebellion against all idea of government and justice." The paper denounces certain Spanish newspapers which, it says, are trying to provoke disorders by reprinting accounts of what has happened abroad.

CRANE INCIDENT NOT CLOSED.

Deposed Minister's Friend Intimates He Will Make Revelations.

New York, Oct. 16.—Charles H. Crane, who was appointed minister to China and who was recalled just as he was about to sail for his post, declined to reveal what his friends declare are the real reasons for his retirement. One of these friends, however, Walter L. Fisher, of Chicago, intimated strongly that the incident was far from closed, and that revelations which would be made in due time would show Mr. Crane to have been the victim of a political intrigue.

The Coolness of Peter.

By EDGAR WELTON COOLEY.

Copyright, 1909, by E. W. Cooley.

"B-R-B-RING!" sounded a bell shrilly in the stillness.

Peter Quigley opened his eyes with a start, then sat bolt upright and stared. Not four feet from him stood a man with a mask over his eyes. He was holding a dark lantern, flashing the light glaringly in Peter's face.

"How dare you," began the man with the mask, "how dare you set an alarm clock to go off at the very moment I'm ransacking the house? I've come to see you to death! How do you know but I might be subject to heart failure or something and that the sudden fright?"

"I'm sorry," began Peter humbly. "I didn't mean to disturb you. I can't sleep comfortably on one side all the time, you know, and I have to set the alarm to awaken me so I can turn over."

"Oh," said the man apprehensively. "Well, don't let it occur again."

"I'll try not to," replied Peter obligingly. "But, you know," he hesitated. "You can't always tell about that clock. You can't always anticipate its behavior. It is a very absent-minded clock and possesses some very peculiar notions of its own. Really it is the most aggravating clock you ever saw. Why, once I set the alarm for 4 o'clock in the morning, I wished to go to the station to meet my uncle, you know. He was a very rich bachelor, with no immediate family. Besides, he was in exceedingly poor health. And, would you believe it, that miserable clock betrayed the confidence I placed in it?"

"And your uncle?" asked the man interestedly.

"My uncle was compelled to hunt me up and ring us out of bed. It was very embarrassing. Of course we had to make some kind of an explanation. But, unfortunately, you know, my wife and I had no opportunity to consult together. We told entirely different stories. That made my uncle suspicious."

"Naturally," said the man. "Then, to make matters worse," resumed Peter, with a sigh, "my uncle was a chronic story teller, one of those people who take a frigid delight in relating a long narrative with a joke at the end of it—the kind of a joke, you know, that you don't really laugh at until the next day."

"I understand," said the man, taking a seat on the edge of the bed resignedly. "I've heard that kind of jokes myself. I call 'em vaccination jokes. They have a point to 'em all right, but they don't take until later. Besides, they are pretty near as bad as having the smallpox."

The man chuckled softly. "Well," Peter continued, "at breakfast that morning this uncle of mine told one of his stories. It was during the days when nearly everybody had, one of those silly little things they called chestnut bells. You remember?"

"Perfectly," said the man.

"Well, at the very moment my uncle sprang his joke and leaned back to enjoy our mirth that clock—that unregenerate, malicious clock—Peter laughed long and loudly.

"Don't!" cried the man in a hoarse whisper, glancing furtively about. "You'll arouse the household."

"There isn't anybody else in this part of the house," reassured Peter. "But my wife, asleep in the next room, and she's deaf, you know. Really, she is so deaf that I can wear a red necktie, green checkered trousers and a purple vest and come home any hour of the night without awakening her."

"You're lucky," said the man, "and being lucky."

"Lucky!" repeated Peter. "I'm so lucky!"

"Never mind about that," interrupted the man. "I was just going to remark that I never saw a lucky man who didn't have money."

"Money?" replied Peter. "Of course I have money. Really, I've got so much money that I can't fall down without breaking a bill, you know. Once!"

"Just hand it over, then," interposed the man with the mask commandingly. "Do I understand that you wish me?"

Aches and Pains

"No remedy that I have used has been so sure a cure for pain of every kind as Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are a sovereign remedy for pain."

MRS. H. BRADEEN, Rapid, Maine.

Pain is in the nerves—all feeling is; headache, toothache, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatic pains, backache, etc.—They're all there, but in different parts—It's nerve trouble.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve the nerve irritation, and the pain subsides—that's all, no derangement of the stomach, no disagreeable after-effects. That's why they are so popular with those that use them.

The first package will benefit if not, your druggist will return your money.

first. There, that unlocks the door. But you were saying—

"I was going to say," again began the man, looking up at Peter, but placing one hand behind him and pulling open the door, "that I never—"

But two policemen suddenly sprang through the door and pinioned the man's arms behind his back.

"Really, I am sorry," grinned Peter, "but I guess you will have to finish your sentence in jail, won't you? You see, that bell was a burglar alarm. You rang it when you entered my room, and unfortunately, you know, it is connected with an automatic device at the police station. They were rather long coming, but I trust you found my companionship agreeable. I certainly did my best to entertain you."

"Say," said the man, submitting quietly to the officers, "you led me to about the room, didn't you? Your wife don't need no less when she's got a cold storage plant for a husband. You're the coolest!"

But the patrol wagon was rolling away.

BIG FORCE TO ATTACK REBELS.

Nicaraguan President is Assembling Troops to Attack Revolutionists.

Managua, Nicaragua, Oct. 16.—The revolutionists are now in possession of Bluefields, Corinto, Greytown, Rivas, Cape Gracias, Rama and San Juan del Norte.

The exact number of the adherents of the revolutionary leader, Juan Estrada, is not known.

President Zelaya is gathering the government forces for an attack upon the revolutionists at Rama and San Juan del Norte.

Estrada's activities are limited practically to the towns already occupied by his soldiers.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Late advice received at the state department show that martial law has been declared in Managua, the capital of Nicaragua, and that President Zelaya has decreed the Atlantic coast ports closed as ports of entry. It is also reported that the entire east coast of Nicaragua is in the possession of the revolutionists and that the revolt has extended to the western part of the country.

SCENT A PLOT AGAINST CZAR

Disorders Over Death of Ferrer Precede Attack on Russian Emperor.

Rome, Oct. 16.—The deliberate prosecution of the agitation and disorders over the death of Ferrer in this city and other Italian centers is believed by the police and other officials to be only a ruse to cover a plot against the Russian emperor, who is to visit Italy within the next few days.

Italy at present is full of nihilists, and one of the leaders in a speech allowed his enthusiasm to run away with his prudence and urged his hearers to receive the Muscovite ruler in the manner he deserved.

Wild cheers greeted the significant words and the mob cried, "Death to the tyrant! Down with Nicholas!" until the police charged and broke up the gathering.

TO DIG UP RECORDS ON MCKINLEY SUMMIT

Cook to Organize Expedition to Prove He Ascended Mountain—Declares Barrill Perjured Himself.

New York, Oct. 16.—After a three-hour conference with his attorney, Dr. Frederick A. Cook in refuting the charges that he had not ascended Mount McKinley in Alaska, in 1906, indicated that Edward N. Barrill, the guide who accompanied him, had perjured himself in his affidavit for a consideration offered by his detractors.

To disprove Barrill's statements he further announced that he had taken preliminary steps to organize an expedition to ascend Mount McKinley, there to procure the records which he says he left there after his ascent. He has requested Anthony Flaherty, the Arctic explorer, to head the expedition and has asked Prof. H. C. Parker of Columbia university to accompany Flaherty. Telegrams were sent to both Flaherty and Parker last night and their answer is expected to-day.

Dr. Cook came back to New York as calm and smiling as ever, received the freedom of the city as conferred by the board of aldermen, and fired the shot which started a 24-hour automobile race at Brighton Beach. He will remain in New York until Sunday night, when he will start for the west on another lecture tour.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The University of Copenhagen has been requested by the National Geographic society to renounce its first claim to an examination of Dr. Cook's observations made during his search for the pole.

The message, signed by Willis L. Moore, president of the National Geographic society, said:

"National Geographic society requests waiver of your first claim to Cook observations of latitude and longitude. American scientists impatient at delay, and feel that this is a matter that should be settled in America."

A message was also sent to Commander Peary at Eagle Harbor, Caneo bay, Maine, saying:

"Board of National Geographic society wishes to act on your expedition at regular meeting next Wednesday. Can you not immediately forward us sufficient records to justify action then?"

STOLEN CHILDREN ARE FOUND.

Viviano Boy and Girl Kidnaped from St. Louis Discovered in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Grace Viviano, three years old, and Tommaso Viviano, seven years old, children of two wealthy Italian cousins of St. Louis, who were kidnaped there on August 2 and held for a ransom of $45,000, are now in the care of the Chicago police.

They were found wandering along hand-in-hand at Larrabee street and Clybourn avenue, near the spot where, it is believed, they were deserted by their captors. They were taken to the Hudson avenue police station.

The boy is in excellent health, but the little girl is in a serious condition from exposure. They were both taken to the Passavant hospital, where they will be held until the arrival of the girl's father, Pietro Viviano.

The police have been unable to glean a single word from the children as to the identity of their abductors or where they were taken after they were kidnaped from their home in St. Louis. Both children seem to be paralyzed from fear and refused to talk to their questioners, even under more urgent persuasion.

JOHNSON IS 10 TO 4 FAVORITE.

Championship Fight is Scheduled for 3 O'Clock This Afternoon.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 16.—The disquieting rumor that today's championship fight between Jack Johnson and Stanley Ketchel might be declared off because of a dispute over the $5,000 side bet against the pugilistic world for some time, but the official announcement of Promoter Cofreth that he had taken possession of the $10,000 stake by the two principals has allayed all fears.

The fight is scheduled for 20 rounds and will begin at three p. m. (Pacific time) after two ten-round preliminaries. Jack Welsh will be the referee. The betting continues at 10 to 4 that Johnson will win and at even money that he will knock Ketchel out in less than 15 rounds. There was no rush of Ketchel money to raise the odds and the pool-rooms still hold enough coin to keep the odds stable.

SEDS POISONED TEA BY MAIL

Oregon Prisoner Accused of Attempting to End Life of Woman.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 16.—Information of felony against C. C. Vaughn, a real estate dealer now serving four months' sentence in the county jail here for assault with a dangerous weapon, was filed by District Attorney Cameron, charging Vaughn with attempting to poison Miss Lola Baldwin of the woman's auxiliary of the Portland police department.

Vaughn is charged with sending through the mails tea containing sufficient strychnine to kill. The tea was received by Miss Baldwin in a package mailed at Seattle.

"Cubs" Are Chicago Champions.

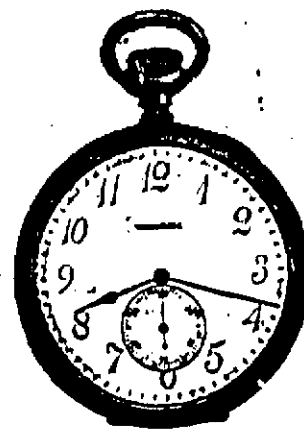

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Chicago National league baseball team won the city championship by defeating the American league club by a score of 1 to 0.

Hall Gains Stricken.

London, Oct. 16.—Hall Gains, the author, suffered a severe attack of heart trouble. His condition is such as to cause much anxiety.

Waltham Watches

Mail Order Houses

A mail order house in Chicago or some other city may be able to sell you anything from a paper of pins to a house and lot, simply by referring you to their catalogues, but they can't sell you a good watch that way. Watches are very delicate machines that may be put out of order in a dozen ways after leaving the factory. A jeweler knows how to put the watch into shape, and he won't sell one without doing it. Mail order houses do not want to bother with that, and, as a matter of fact, they cannot if they would. Waltham Watches are the best in the world, but whether you buy a Waltham or some other kind, go to a jeweler, tell him what you want, and he will sell you a watch in good running order. Do not make the mistake of trying to buy by mail from any catalogue; you won't know what you are getting if you do.

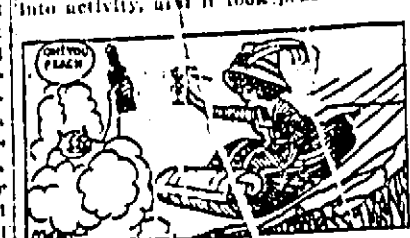

Waltham Watch Company.
Waltham, Mass.

N. B.—When buying a watch always ask your jeweler for a Waltham adjusted to temperature and position.

Talks on Snake Culture

No. 30—Fitting 'The Tobacco'

Old John Barleycorn devotes most of his attention to the men, but there is a chivalrous strain in his nature, and it is no part of his policy to neglect the ladies. In his private graveyard there are many damsels. It is quite easy for a woman to get a man to acquire the booze habit. Not long ago a girl of nineteen years died in a Kansas City hospital. Her father, a penniless, ragged and forlorn, she turned her face to the wall and passed out into the silence; and the hospital doctor, who had seen much of misery, said that this was the saddest case he had known. On the first day of this year of grace that girl was beautiful and healthy and happy, and the funeral and a safe bet, she accompanied New Year party, and there she took every day, countless stories, equally sad, equally true; and the young man who had no other ambition than to secure a drink, and then a few more drinks. She had inherited a grand old Barleycorn should get wise.

In seven months she traveled the road from joyous youth to faded old age, and there wasn't a soul on earth who would put up the price of her coffin. The town of Kansas City turned a safe bet, she accompanied New Year party, and there she took every day, countless stories, equally sad, equally true; and the young man who had no other ambition than to secure a drink, and then a few more drinks. She had inherited a grand old Barleycorn should get wise.

Sincerity Clothes

That's why their shape is permanent—it wouldn't be if there was the least chance of the fabric stretching after you wear the garments.

The shape with which you start a Sincerity Suit or Overcoat stays there until you stop wearing it. It's tailored into the fabric. Sincerity Clothes for young men are cut on special models. Such good figures are built into the garments that you needn't worry about your own.

CHARLES M. FICKERT OPPOSING HENNEY FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

San Francisco.—The fight for district attorney is attracting much attention here on account of the prominence of the two candidates. William H. Langdon is the present incumbent, and it was through his appointment of Francis J. Henney as assistant district attorney that so much was brought to the grafters. Henney is now out to succeed Langdon. He was nominated by the Democrats at the recent primary election. The Republicans chose Charles M. Fickert and the fight is a strenuous one.

Fickert is a well known attorney and served at one time as assistant United States district attorney for the northern district of California.

Happiness Easily Found.

Happiness is not like a large and beautiful gem, so uncommon and rare that all search for it is vain, all efforts to obtain it hopeless; but it consists of a series of smaller and commoner gems, grouped and set together, forming a pleasing and graceful whole.—Samuel Smiles.
